Barre anglers, who made their camping headquarters on the shores of Lake Umbagog in northern Maine last week, returned to the city by motor Saturday with creels well laden with square tailed trout. After reaching the Pine Tree state much of the distance to the lake was traversed through what the sportsmen were pleased to call near-virgin forest. Thirty-four miles from the nearest railroad the anglers, among whom were men interested in the development of the stone industry here, stopped to inspect a little rural cemetery, where they noticed that Barre granite predominated in the stone used in marking the graves. Among those who made the trip were H. P. Himmun, Lester P. Clough, A. L. Averill, C. W. McMillan, Alex. A. Milne and George Robbins.

Among the Barre people who left the city through the week-end and today for vacation visitors were: Mr. and Mrs. John Davidson, who left for Philadelphia for a month; Miss Ethel Gamble of Division street, who is passing a week with relatives in Wells River and Woodsville, N. H.; Miss Deleno Merlo of Granite street, who left this morning for an extended stay in Milford, N. H.; Quincy and Milford, Mass.; Mrs. Battista Galli and children, who have gone to Milford, N. H. to remain for a month with relatives; Mrs. Joseph Bianchi of Summer street, who is to pass the week in Waterbury; Paul R. Bianchi and Vincent Catto, who have gone to Montreal, P. Q., to remain until after Independence day; Mr. and Mrs. James Signorelli of Merchant street, who have gone to Boston for a fortnight; Mr. and Mrs. John Craig and Mr. and Mrs. John Walker of Laurel street, to Burlington; and George Partridge, who is passing a week at Alburgh Springs.

A wedding of interest to many Barre people was celebrated in Bellows Falls Saturday when Miss Isabelle Jane Halliday of this city, daughter of Mrs. Annie Halliday of Bellows Falls, became the wife of Harold Cummings of New Haven, Conn., son of Mrs. Donald Green of Websterville. The ceremony took place in the parsonage of the First Baptist church, Rev. M. W. Chesbro officiating. The couple were attended by Miss Grace McDonald and William J. McDonald of Barre, cousin of the bride. The bride wore a gown of white crepe de chine and a white hat wreathed with orange blossoms and chignon ties. She carried a bouquet of white roses. The bridesmaid wore pink silk with an over skirt of georgette crepe with a hat to match. She carried pink sweet peas. The bride is a graduate of the Claremont General hospital, training school for nurses, in the class of 1912. After visiting in Barre and Websterville for a few days, Mr. and Mrs. Cummings will go to New Haven, Conn., to make their home.
